DELEGATES AT NIAGARA DEADLOCKED

Over Question of Constitutional Representation at Conference

NO OFFICIAL KNOWLEDGE

On Subject Has Been Given Out by the Mediators—American Representatives Await Information From Washington.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Niagara Falls, Ont., June 2.—Still deadlocked over the question of constitutional representation at the conference here, the Mexican and American delegates were awaiting more information today about the ability of certain persons who had been previously suggested to compose the new Provisional Government.

The Mexican delegates are reporting to their government the developments with reference to constitutional participation but have as yet no official knowledge on the subject from the mediators.

The American delegates have not finished their discussion with the mediators about the constitutionalists and are awaiting more information from Washington in this connection.

The statement from Durango giving the constitutionalist view of the mediators conference was regarded here as likely to delay the negotiations. While no comment was obtainable, those of the conference who did express themselves pointed to the statement as concrete evidence of misunderstanding that existed in the minds of the constitutionalists as to the character of the negotiations here.

There is some reason for believing that the conference here, has planned from the first to give the constitutionalists a large share in the new provisional government but definite information along this line has necessarily been withheld until the view points of the Huerta government and Washington could be obtained.

CRITICISM OF CARRANZA ON THE ENVOYS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, June 2.—While administration leaders still looked to Niagara Falls today for the decision of the mediators over the question of constitutional representation at the Mexican conference the semi-official statement from Carranza's organ at Durango criticizing the course of the South American mediators attracted wide spread attention. Such expressions are in the statement that the constitutionalists are not usually wont to permit the conquered to dictate terms of peace, which is practically what is to be asked.

Administration chiefs declined to comment upon the decision. Declarations from Niagara Falls stated the Durango expression did not alter the mediators opinion toward the constitutionalists.

Hope was not lacking that differences between the mediators and the constitutionalists could be dissipated by exchanges which recently were initiated by the delivery of the Carranza note a Niagara Falls. In some quarters belief was expressed that the diplomatic stage might start to clear when the mediators made their reply to the message.

They still sought word as to whether Carranza would agree to a brief truce and whether he would authorize a representative to discuss the broad subject of the Republican pacification.

Up to this time Carranza has turned a deaf ear to such proposition. Secretary Bryan was in frequent communication with the mediators of the American mission at Niagara Falls, but beyond his statement that the conference was "Progressing satisfactorily, no intimation of the trend of exchanges was forthcoming. The Huerta delegates it is believed will abide by the envoy's will in the matter.

While the diplomatic phase of the Mexican equation was uppermost to day, yet the refusal of the American government to clear ships bearing war cargoes to any port was an interesting development. Previously it has been believed that Carranza's troops would be able to replenish their arms supplies through the port of Tampico which they recently captured. However arms for Mexican point from the United States under present conditions must be sent to other ports and reconsigned there.

MINERS AND OPERATORS MAY AGREE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, O., June 2.—Ohio coal operators failed to meet in joint conference with delegates of striking miners in an effort to arrange a satisfactory wage scale today, but it was expected the conference would begin this afternoon.

Operators met separately in executive session to discuss what terms they will offer the miners. The miners listened to addresses by John P. White, International President and Wm. Green, International Secretary-Treasurer of the United Mine Workers and John Moore, President of District No. 6. President White pledged the support of the National organization to Ohio miners in settling the present wage difficulties.

While neither miners nor operators would offer predictions today concerning the probable outcome of the second conference in an effort to agree upon wage scale, there was a general feeling that the controversy might be settled to satisfaction of both parties.

The miners delegates as a rule came instructed it was said but they are expected to follow the lead of President John Moore and John P. White.

The second conference is the result of mediation on the part of Gov. Cox, who urged the operators and the men to come together in another meeting for the purpose of arranging terms for ending the situation which has resulted in the mines being closed since April 1. The miners declared a strike about three weeks ago.

SEND OUT CALL FOR 82,000 MEN IN HARVEST FIELDS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, June 2.—Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma raisers of wheat need at least 82,000 more men to help in harvesting the crops and the commission of labor of those states have asked Secretary of Labor Wilson to have his department co-operate with them in obtaining the necessary workers. The men will be wanted by June 15 and the pay, as stated, will range from $2 to $5 a day. The period of employment will be from three to five or six months. Various local organizations will arrange distributing the men among the wheat farmers.

WOMEN TO CONDUCT A CAMPAIGN

Ohio Suffragettes to Organize Bill Posting Squads Over State

PLAN MUCH PUBLICITY

To Assist in Circulation of Petitions to Initiate Constitutional Amendment Which Will Be Voted On This Fall.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, O., June 2.—Ohio suffragettes will organize bill posting squads and keep busy during the summer months with brushes and paste placing huge notices on barns and fences in country districts, according to announcement made here today by Miss Anna Quinby, President of the Ohio Women Taxpayers League, under whose directions the bill posting campaign will be conducted.

The purpose of the advertising is to win support of the constitutional amendment which suffragettes expect to initiate by petitions now being circulated, and which will be voted in the state in the November elections.

"Taxation of women without the vote is tyranny" reads one poster which has been prepared. "Women in Ohio should vote on equal terms with men" is the wording of another. "Women will don white canvas suits carry buckets of paste and brushes, ride in automobiles through the country from most of the cities and post our notices on every barn, fence or rock they can find," said Miss Quinby.

A pilgrimage is planned by the Ohio suffragettes to Salem, O., where the second local woman's rights convention in the world was held in 1850. The Quaker meeting house in which it met is still standing, and the exercises of the day will take place within those historic walls, or in the street outside. There will be music and speaking; the famous declaration of 1850 will be read, and the suffragists who have been circulating petitions in that part of Ohio will deliver them to the State officers.

Automobile parties will start for Salem from Cleveland and Youngstown and will hold meetings along the route. The pilgrimage will take place about June 10, and promises to be a delightful affair.

FIRE DESTROYS TRANSFER BARN AT CAPITAL CITY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, O., June 2.—A spectacular fire early today which destroyed the barn of the Columbus Transfer company raged for several hours before it was under control and for a time threatened the property covering an area of more than a city square in the vicinity of Naughten and Chestnut and High and Fourth streets. The damage to the transfer company and to other property which was in the path of the blaze is estimated at about $6,000 fully covered by insurance.

Two men were seriously injured while fighting the fire. About 150 horses were hurriedly unloosed and turned into the streets, where they ran wild in the town district for several hours.

Street traffic was suspended in the fire district and cars were blocked for a long distance in every direction.

WAS STRUCK BY LIGHTNING WHILE DRIVING AN AUTO

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Fort Bayard, N. M., June 2.—Captain Joseph O. Walkup medical corps, U. S. A., was instantly killed yesterday by lightning while driving his automobile. The four other occupants of the car were badly shocked, but are in no danger. Captain Walkup, who was at the wheel, was struck squarely in the forehead by the bolt of lightning. He is survived by a wife and son who are visiting relatives in Pennsylvania.

King's Daughters And Sons Meeting At Detroit, Mich.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Detroit, Mich., June 2.—The election of officers was regarded as the most important business before the convention of the International Order of King's Daughters and Sons today. The formal ballots were to be cast late in the afternoon. "Loyalty to the order, how to increase it," and "Activities of the order" as reported by branches in various places in the United States and Canada, were on the program.

Intrenchments on Outposts of Vera Cruz Occupied by U. S. Soldiers.

An idea of how General Funston is guarding any possible move of the Mexican Federals against detachments of his command on guard at the Vera Cruz outposts may be had from the above photo showing part of an intrenchment in the sand dunes about ten miles from that city. The intrenchment itself is almost shoulder high. About the intrenchment, breast works of sand bags have been raised, and when the boys of the U. S. Army get into these fortifications the certainty of considerable damage being done by them, should the Mexicans attempt a sortie, is assured.

Elmer E. Jones Finds Stolen Horse Through Medium of Clairvoyant

Through the medium of a clairvoyant and fortune teller of this city, whom he consulted, Elmer E. Jones, the Newark liveryman, located and recovered a valuable sorrel mare, that was stolen last Thursday.

On Thursday last a man giving the name of W. M. Huffman came to the stable and hired a horse and piano box buggy, telling Mr. Jones he wanted to drive to Alexandria. To the barn men he said he was going to Manover to "see his girl." That was the last seen of him by Mr. Jones.

He represented himself as a salesman and had on several previous occasions hired rigs at the stable, but when he did not return in a day or two Mr. Jones realized that they had been attempted, and took means to recover his property through the efforts of the sheriff's and police departments.

But Mr. Jones also had faith in clairvoyance and kindred psychic phenomena, and consulted one who professed proficiency in the occult science. The result justified this confidence. The medium at any rate told Mr. Jones that he would find the stolen horse in Columbus, and in following the woman's directions, within 15 minutes after he landed in the Capital City, he clapped his eyes on the mare and immediately replevined his property which is now being held until the trial of the replevin suit in Columbus Thursday morning at 9 o'clock.

His tip led him first to Mrs. James Overturf, who keeps a boarding house near the interurban station, and is the wife of a former Newark police lieutenant. She had bought a horse answering the description of the stolen one from a man giving the name of William Jenkins, paying thirty dollars in cash and two sets of brass mounted double harness for the horse and cart, the latter having been received in a trade for the buggy.

Mrs. Overturf however refused to give any information, but Jones soon learned that the horse was in the Brown livery stable near the station, and here she was found and replevined.

The man who sold the horse is known about the livery stable in Columbus where he worked under the name of "Billy" Jenkins, but his name is said to be Dinkins, and he is said to be wanted here for the theft of a pocket book at the Commercial House, and at Mt. Vernon on the charge of stealing sheep hides.

Mr. Jones had no idea Tuesday afternoon what had become of the buggy.

There was a reward of $100 for the recovery of this horse, $50 to be given by Mr. Jones and $50 by the county commissioners.

ALLEGED LEPER IS BACK AGAIN IN WASHINGTON

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, June 2.—John R. Early, who for the last five years had made many enforced journeys about the country in box cars and been held under quarantine in many cities while medical experts have disagreed on whether he is a leper, turned up in Washington again today, and before his identity was discovered took quarters at a fashionable uptown hotel the home of Vice President Marshall and others prominent in capital life.

Early was not discovered until after he had telephoned to a newspaper asking for a reporter to interview "Mr. Westwood."

The newspaper man at once recognized the noted patient and informed the authorities who took Early back to his old place of isolation on the city limits. The fashionable hotel and its guests were thrown into a state of commotion. The alleged leper escaped May 18 from the Diamond Lead quarantine station near Fort Townsend Wash., and was traced to Victoria, B. C., where officers lost track of him.

TO HAVE DISEASE PREVENTION DAY IN THE HOOSIER STATE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Indianapolis, June 2.—Gov. Samuel M. Ralston will name a day in October to be observed throughout Indiana as "Disease Prevention Day." The movement was started by the Indiana society for prevention of tuberculosis and when Governor Ralston heard of the plan, he endorsed the proposition and promised to do all in his power to make the demonstration state-wide and one of the most unique ever observed in the United States.

It is said to be the first time any state has attempted such a demonstration.

IMPOSING CEREMONY PLANNED

Public Funeral Will Be Held For Victims of Ship Collision

SCHOOLS WILL CLOSE

And Business in Quebec Will Be Suspended—Many Disputes Arise Over the Identification of the Dead.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Quebec, June 2.—The first public funeral of the victims of the collision between the Empress of Ireland and the Storstad is to be held Wednesday when the bodies of nine of the crew will be buried. Mayor Napoleon Druin, aided by Canadian Pacific officials and prominent people of the town is arranging for the ceremony which will be an imposing one. There is to be a public procession headed by the Royal Canadian Garrison artillery band, and detachments from the warship Essex and the local military forces will be in line. The schools are to close and for a time business will be suspended.

The hearing to fix the responsibility will begin June 9, but whether in Montreal or Quebec has not yet been definitely decided. The number of disputes that have arisen in the funeral shed is a surprising feature of the identification work that has been going on there. In one case no less than five persons contended for the possession for one of the little girl victims with the result that when the pier was closed last night the body was still classed as unidentified. So altered are the features of the dead that many mistakes are made.

TELLS STORY OF SINKING OF THE CANADIAN SHIP

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, June 2.—To an audience at Salvation Army Headquarters here yesterday Kenneth McIntyre a survivor of the Empress of Ireland disaster told of his experiences after the collision. His plunge into the icy waters of the St. Lawrence river, his rescue and quick trip to New York in an endeavor to engage passage on another steamer that would yet land him in London in time for the international convention June 7.

McIntyre was badly shaken from the experience and spoke in a low tone. There was no panic following the accident. The first to gain the deck aided those who followed pointing the way and fastening on life preservers. No husband and wife of the Salvation Army, he said, were parted by the disaster. Either both husband and wife perished or both were saved. McIntyre himself leaped overboard before the vessel gave her final plunge. Floating on his back, at some distance, he saw the boat give a lurch. At the same moment Major Atwell of the Salvation Army jumped into the river. "There goes Atwell," thought the man, "It's my last sight of him." Hours later when the two met on shore, Major Atwell told him that the same thought had been his when McIntyre leaped into the water. At the offices of the Canadian Pacific railroad here inquiries continued today for news of friends who were passengers on the Empress of Ireland.

SUPREME COURT DISMISSES CASE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, June 2.—The supreme court today dismissed the appeal of William F. Kent, Summit county, against the city of Akron, from continuing work on its municipal water plant on the ground that by diverting water from the Cuyahoga river his mill and other property was being irreparably damaged. Kent lost in the lower courts as well as the court of last resort.

BOLD ROBBERS GET AWAY WITH BANK'S CURRENCY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

While four stood guard the other blew open the bank and took $500 in currency. Pursuit was taken up by deputy sheriffs in an automobile but the trail was lost near Monticello.

Over $33,000 Building Permits Issued In May For 26 New Structures

Building in Newark is showing a boom by the record of permits kept in the office of the Service Director. During the month of May there was an average of over a thousand dollars per day, or a total of $33,680. That the construction is very general, and there is not included in that amount any one or two expensive structures, it may be mentioned that every part of the city is represented, as locations for the 26 proposed buildings. Not one permit is for more than $4,000 and only one for that amount, two for $3,000, six for $2,000 and under $3,000, six for $1,000 and under $2,000 while the others are below the $1,000 mark.

During the last week in May the following were issued:
J. F. and C. L. Barber, five room frame dwelling in First street, $1,200.
John W. Seidel, eight room frame dwelling in Day avenue.
Mary C. Daerr, two story frame dwelling, east side South Williams street near Maholm, $2,000.
T. Lester Parr, 6 room frame dwelling Allen street, $1,200.
Stanley L. Courson, seven room dwelling in Boylston avenue, $2,000.
Edwin D. Bush, seven room frame $1,500.
J. R. Adams eight room frame, Eleventh street, $1,800.

Council Strikes Snag In Proposed Pavement; Ordinance Is Referred

The proposed paving of Kibler avenue brought out the only real discussion at the regular meeting of the city council Monday night. Councilman Rexroth from this part of the city is sponsor for an ordinance declaring the improvement necessary, and it was up to taking a vote on the final passage, (the rules having been suspended) when it developed, that Jones & Chilcote owned a foot of ground between the property along that street and the road way for quite a distance, so thus the property really did not abut on the street. The question was then brought up by Dr. Keller as to what effect this would have upon the division of the expense as this property could not be assessed for the pavement, and asked if the city would have to bear all the expense.

Mr. Rexroth said it was probable that the city would have to pay a larger proportion on this account, but that the people living along the street should have the improvement, as it was impossible in winter, and they were in no way responsible if an error had been committed by the

PET DOG HAD RABIES; BIT 3 PERSONS

Mrs. Jesse Crouch and two children Carl aged 3, and Marion aged 6, living at 18 Harrison street, were bitten by a dog last Thursday, which died Saturday night from rabies, according to the diagnosis of Dr. Fisher, expert bacteriologist, connected with the live stock division of the State Agricultural department, who examined the head, which was sent to him by Dr. Fred Priest, the Newark veterinarian.

After making the examination he sent a telegram to Dr. Priest Monday night, who immediately took the news to the family, that the dog had died from hydrophobia and will leave the case in charge of Dr. Carl Evans, the family physician, who will take the steps he deems necessary to prevent the dread infection from developing the disease in the persons bitten, when he gets home from Cincinnati, tonight.

The dog was a little white spaniel and had been a pet in the Crouch household for over two years and was a constant companion of the children.

Last Wednesday Mrs. Belle Mowery, who makes her home with her daughter Mrs. Crouch, noticed that the dog's tongue had a peculiar appearance but paid no attention to the matter. On Thursday morning she left the house and the dog was lying on the bed with one of the children.

Suddenly the animal jumped off the bed and ran in and out of the room and out on the street and back again, showing signs of great nervousness and distress. Mrs. Crouch picked her up and a neighbor suggested that heat had probably overcome her, and that Mrs. Crouch should put her in a tub of cold water, which was done. The dog then became very violent and bit the woman on the right thumb, chewing it to the bone and also inflicted lesser wounds on the wrist and left hand.

The baby was also bitten above the right eye and Marion on the right side of the chin.

The dog was then locked in the cellar where he died Saturday night. Dr. Evans will return from Cincinnati tonight, and in the meantime Dr. W. E. Boyer will take charge of the case.

B. & O. Notes

Employees of the B. and O. lines with an ambition to own their homes are being assisted in securing desirable properties at satisfactory terms by an arrangement made by the Employees' Relief Department, through which the railroad men are informed concerning real estate activities on the various divisions of the road. Homes that are for sale are brought to the notice of the employees, with complete information as to the price, value and location. Investigations of properties are made for the employees at the expense of the company. Payments on homes are taken care of through the savings and loan feature of the Relief Department in order that the railroad men may carry on their payments in monthly installments.

In carrying out this policy, the railroad believes that first of all it improves the economic condition of the men in its employ and raises the grade of service by insuring a class of employees who embody the qualifications of good citizenship.

Information about homes is posted on bulletin boards at terminals and in the various offices of the service.

"Summer Tours," a publication issued yearly by the B. and O. lines for the guidance of vacationists, is being distributed to the public. The book contains information about summer resorts in all sections of the country, together with hotel rates, regulations governing travel by water and rail and other details found in a guide.

Robert R. Brown of Hamden, O., the oldest agent in point of service in the employ of the B. and O. system, died a few days ago. He was born September 1, 1835, and became the agent of Hamden on October 1, 1861. He retired as agent at Hamden on January 8, 1914, when his name was placed on the railroad's honor roll to receive a pension for long and useful service.

J. B. White has been appointed assistant trainmaster of the B. and O. railroad at Brunswick, Md., succeeding C. L. Todd. Brunswick is the eastern classification terminal and contains one of the largest individual freight yards in the world.

Glandular trouble, very frequently diagnosed by physicians as "Tuberculosis of the Glands," has been found to yield to Eckman's Alternative, which other treatments did not bring relief. Eckman's Alternative is a medicine which the past century years has brought about many recoveries even in a number of supposed hopeless cases.

207 Lauderston St., Phila., Pa.
"Gentlemen: In March, 1909, my doctor pronounced my case 'Tuberculosis of the Glands,' and a number of operations in a hospital failed to benefit me. In the meantime a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat and sleep, and that time I have not lost one day's work through sickness. I highly recommend Eckman's Alternative to any one who is afflicted with glandular trouble."

Decorations Day.

Can any one of the citizens of Gratiot or vicinity tell the meaning of Memorial Day. It would seem that this day has been set apart for outing and games instead of for the purpose of honoring the dead. On Memorial Day the citizens of Gratiot surely forgot its true meaning for nearly all attended the game here and very few assembled to hear two very excellent Memorial addresses. One may see a ball game any day, but when a day is dedicated to the dead heroes it would seem that they should be honored and the day not desecrated but respected.

An Echo Answers Why?

Editor Advocate:—What are we to think about the anxiety of so many Republicans and Bull Mooseers to see the plank in the Democratic platform favoring free tolls on the Panama canal for our coastwise ships carried into effect? Isn't the spectacle enough to make the angels weep? Rather, isn't it enough to make them laugh? And if these Republican and Bull Moose patriots really believe in ship subsidies why don't they have the goodness gracious to say so.

SCHOLARSHIPS TO THE COLLEGE

OF AGRICULTURE.
According to a plan recently drawn up by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, State Supervisors of Agricultural Education and the Dean of the College of Agriculture, five free scholarships to the College of Agriculture will be awarded to high school pupils in each of the four districts of Agricultural Education. This number will be increased by five each year until a total of twenty is assigned to each district. Thereafter five will be awarded in each district each year. They will be good for the full four years' course in the College of Agriculture. The awarding of these scholarships will be based on a uniform competitive examination on high school agriculture given in every first and second grade high school in the state and held the second Friday in April each year. These examinations will be open to senior and last year pupils; they will be conducted by the principal of the high school; the questions will be prepared by the Supervisors of Agricultural Education and approved by the Dean of the College of Agriculture. In addition to the scholarships for the four year courses, free scholarships to the short three-year courses in the College of Agriculture will be given by the Agricultural Commission as prizes to the winners of the contest. The winner of this prize will be the winner of the junior contest in which the greatest number of entries have been made, whether it is corn growing, garden or bread making contests. Under the new arrangement, the scholarship usually awarded by the College of Agriculture through the county agricultural societies will be withdrawn after the school year 1914-15.

Seeks Separation.

When men carry beer to a man's wife in his absence, get his wife intoxicated and then she lets him come home and do the housework and cook the meals, that's enough for a divorce according to "Franklin Lelew" who Tuesday filed a petition to that effect in Probate court. Lelew says he was married to his wife Iva in April, 1912, and that they have no children. Attorney J. W. Horner represents Lelew.

The industrial accident insurance commission of California has published a decision that it is illegal to reduce wages to meet the cost of insurance against the compensation risk on employees.

The amended plans for the paving of Buena Vista street was submitted by City Engineer Wells, with a roadway 35 feet wide, estimating the cost per foot front to be $2.17; for one 30 feet wide, $2.91; for one 25 feet wide, $2.50.

Ordinances.

By Payne—To improve Lawrence street from Buena Vista to the P. C. & St. L. railway tracks; Arch street from East Main to the third alley north of East Main street by constructing a sanitary sewer. Passed under a suspension of the rules.

An ordinance by Bonham was read for the first time to issue $4584.61 bonds to pay the city's share of the cost of improving South Williams street from West Main street to the south line of White's addition, the bonds to draw interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum. Passed under a suspension of the rules. The improvement consists of paving and sewer.

By Seward—An ordinance regulating the speed of motor vehicles upon the principal streets radiating from the central part of the city to the corporation line in each direction was read for the first time.

Rexroth—To have Maple avenue from Leroy to Channel streets; passed under a suspension of the rules.
Rexroth—To pave Kibler avenue from Elizabeth to Charles streets; read for first time, and referred to the law committee to report at next meeting.

To construct a drainage sewer on Jackson, Front, Locust and Indiana streets from Sprague street to the North Fork; second reading.

Resolutions.

Baker—That permission be granted Licking Lodge of Moose to use Second street from the square to the railroad tracks for a street fair from June 15 to 20.

Mr. Payne objected to granting the privilege asked by the Moose lodge, and Dr. Keller said that he did not think it came within the province of the council, and thought the matter should be referred to the Mayor.

Solicitor Norpell said that the granting of the privilege was merely a permissive act and not one of legislation; to allow the use of the streets for such a purpose, and that there was really no legal authority to do it. The matter was thus left to the discretion of Mayor Bigbee.

Payne—Declaring it necessary to pave North Buena Vista street from Indiana to the north line of Daugherty avenue; first reading.

Payne—A subscribing clerk to invest $138 in his hands from cemetery endowment fund; adopted.

Bonham—That property be appropriated for the extension of Burt avenue; adopted under a suspension of the rules.

Rexroth—To appropriate property for alley purposes from Stevens street to Norton avenue, 15 feet off of two lots; adopted under suspension of the rules. Knauber and Legge voting no.

COL. W. C. WELLS EXCURSION AGENT FOR OHIO ELECTRIC

Col. W. C. Wells, who was the first manager of Buckeye Lake park, and for several years secretary of the Newark Board of Trade, entered upon his duties Tuesday as excursion agent for the Ohio Electric Railway company, a position to which he has just been assigned by officers of the company in Cincinnati.

It is doubtful if there is a man in the state more familiar with Buckeye Lake than Col. Wells, who has at least a speaking acquaintance. It has been said, "with even the fish in the lake." Not only is he familiar with the advantages of the resort but he has the happy faculty of making visitors feel at home. It is the purpose of the Colonel to be present at the resort when his excursion parties arrive and help to see to it that nothing is wanting to make their stay at Buckeye Lake a pleasant one.

Col. Wells hopes to be instrumental in bringing thousands of excursionists to the lake this summer from various parts of the state, and with the improvements inaugurated there by Manager Will D. Harris it is predicted that the resort will continue to prove a mecca for summer sojourners.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts before breakfast if your back hurts or bladder is troubling you.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headache, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passing or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

RETURN OF FLAG WILL BE SHOWN AT A LOCAL THEATRE

On next Friday afternoon and night Newark people will be given an opportunity of seeing Confederate veterans return to its original bearers the tattered flag of the Seventy-sixth Ohio, just as the ceremony took place on May 6, in Jacksonville, Fla., when a commission of five Licking county war veterans appointed by Governor Cox received the old war banner.

Manager Abe Thomas of the Grand theatre announced Tuesday that he has obtained the motion picture of the event and will exhibit it in his theatre, along with the other attractive features both afternoon and night.

This is the picture which was exhibited in Denver, Colo., ten days ago and was viewed by Frank Kibler, son of Col. Kibler, who has not seen his father in eleven years and who knew nothing of his trip to Jacksonville to receive the old flag. The son recognized his father in the picture and wrote him a letter describing his delight.

Just five members of the old Seventy-sixth, regiment composed of Licking county men, were sent to Jacksonville, and, accompanied by George Burba, secretary to Governor Cox, received the flag from the veterans who captured it in battle a half century ago. Veterans of the Seventy-sixth who received the flag were Col. C. H. Kibler, Marion Chrisman, Jabez Rhoades, William Held and Wm. C. Montgomery.

NOTICE TO TEACHERS.
All school teachers desiring to be employed by the Newark Township Board of Education for the coming school year are notified to send their application to the undersigned on or before the 10th, of June, 1914, as the board will meet on the evening of that date for the election of teachers. In addition to the teachers for the various sub-districts, the board desires to employ a special teacher of music. M. R. Scott, Clerk of Board.

Licking County Wool and Tariff

It would be a thankless task for a Republican political orator right now, to attempt to convince the Licking county farmer that the Democratic tariff law is inimical to his welfare. Especially is this true as far as wool is concerned. Last season the sheep raiser hereabouts was getting 15 to 18 cents a pound for his fleeces, and he was told that the reason for this low price was the prospect of Democratic "tariff tinkering" with the wool schedule. Many believed, and expected it to be a losing proposition to raise wool for this season's market. At the present time the staple is selling for around 26 cents, or over twice what it brought in 1913, and this in spite of the passage of the Democratic law, reducing the wool duty.

There is estimated to be about 45,000 sheep in Licking county, and buyers were so anxious to get the crop that, in probably most cases, the wool was sold on the sheep's backs, to be brought to market as soon as sheared. The price paid was in very few cases under 25 cents. The result of this has been that the movement of wool, according to local dealers, has been more rapid in the last three weeks, than was the case in nearly as many months last year.

So it is a waste of time to argue the wool question with the Licking county farmer, with a view of convincing him of the deleterious effect of the present tariff law. He may say little, but he knows the facts, and fondly remembers the surplus over last year's price, that he received for this year's fleeces.

He probably knows that the Democratic tariff is framed against the "interests," but not HIS interests.

Public Improvements.

W. C. Seward, Republican councilman at large, sounded a note of warning to his confreres in the city's legislative body, Monday night, against the indiscriminate spending of the people's money in making improvements, some of which he considered unnecessary, especially at this time, when the city has no money with which to complete them. In no uncertain tones he called a halt upon a policy of reckless extravagance, which he believed to be the general trend of some of the proposed legislation, and took his position upon high moral grounds, if they were not legally unassailable.

The stand taken by Mr. Seward was significant, and timely. He is one of the members at large, of a body overwhelmingly Republican, there being only one Democrat seated in its deliberations, and of course Mr. Phil Baker is powerless to stem the tide of this expenditure even though he consistently raised his voice, and registered his vote against it.

In the short time the present council has been in existence, Mr. Seward pointed out that it had made a record for passing improvement ordinances carrying a big outlay of money.

The Battle Against the Slum

Jacob Riis who died a few days ago will be chiefly remembered for his campaign against the slums. The results of the movement in which he was a leader has been told by the obituaries, and is an impressive record. At the same time, Mr. Riis noted in a recent magazine article, that there are still 60,000 windowless rooms in New York city, a continuing threat of tuberculosis. The battle against the slum is only begun.

There is one phase of it that has scarcely been touched. No matter how good laws are enacted, slum conditions will continue as long as people herd in congested centers contrary to economic laws. Some weird and fatalistic suggestion leads people to assemble in these human ant-hills of the big cities. Somehow they prefer that life to health and better paying jobs in smaller cities or the country.

On the one hand the tenement workshop, with sweated workers at a dollar a day. On the other, the depleted farm districts, with the farmers unable to get the help to harvest their crops. What a contrast is this mal-adjustment of modern civilization!

President Sandles of the State Agricultural Commission wrote to the Advocate one day last week saying that Ohio is today producing less meat, less grain, less fruit than it did 25 years ago though the population has doubled in that time.

Is there not some organization, philanthropic or business, that can undertake the task of breaking up the congestion of the cities, and of connecting the worker with the country and small city job?

To most people the word "slum" conveys a picture of ramshackle tenements and swarming herds of dirty people. But equally dangerous conditions can be found in half of our small cities and country towns, with the difference that there is no Jacob Riis in sight to work for the children.

The little group of village houses without proper drainage, with a contaminated water supply, with all sexes and ages in one or two dirty rooms—these are conditions often found in semi-rural life. They are quite as ominous as those which Riis exposed in the metropolis a few years ago.

Have You a Child?

In Ohio there are many little children who for various reasons have been bereft of parents. They have an unspeakable heart-hunger for that parental love and sympathy which cannot be found in an orphanage.

Many of the best citizens of Ohio have a great longing for the affection of a promising child, because they are childless.

The Board of State Charities, through its Children's Welfare Department, is seeking to bring them together.

Under the new Children's Code, the Juvenile Court Judges are permitted to commit dependent children direct to the Board of State Charities. It is probable that most of the children thus committed will be sent from counties where there is no local children's institution, such as we have here in Licking county.

In addition to the children committed direct to the Board of State Charities, some of the County Children's Homes have requested the Board to assist in securing suitable family homes for such of their children as are orphaned or for other reasons cannot be returned to their own parents.

The Board of State Charities has arranged to have every child upon receipt given a thorough physical and mental examination. It is also making an effort to secure an extensive family history, in order that it may be determined, as far as possible, that the child to be placed in the family home is mentally and physically normal.

Any person interested in taking into his home one of these children is requested to communicate with the Ohio Board of State Charities, Children's Welfare Department, Columbus.

Before the placement of a child with any family, a representative of the Board will call personally upon the applicant. This makes possible a suitable adjustment of the child to the family.

The Board is making an appeal for homes in good families for children of all ages.

The Speed Maniac.

Where'er he hies he simply flies, the dust behind him thickens; past my abode he burns the road, and kills my pig and chickens. He toots his horn as though in scorn of folks who travel slowly; like falling stars his noisy car attains a speed unholy. He does not care for your despair, nor heeds your angry feelings; he scoots and rips and tears and zips, with drunken leaps and reels. For poor galoot who toils afoot he does not care a stiver; he scares the nules the farmer toils, he bolts and kills the driver. Along his track for meters back his dead and maimed are lying; he merely sniffs at mangled stiffs, and still he goes a-flying. When brought to court this measly sport is taxed a few piasters, when he should wait for years in jail for causing such disasters. Throughout the land this thing we stand— we stand it 'cause we've got to—and all our kicks don't serve to fix the saphead with the auto. Perhaps some time 'twill count as crime to run amuck, doggone it, along the pike, and chase and strike and maim the people on it.

By the Way

Reduced to its simplest terms, executive ability consists in sitting by while other men do the work.

The average man knows how the government should be run, but he can not tell you how old his children are to save his life.

About all a man needs to get into society is a pleasing personality and evening clothes. But a woman must have money, family, application and perseverance.

Those who patronize dramatic art are becoming more exacting in their

The feeling of sleepiness, when you are not in bed and can't get there, is the most disagreeable feeling in the world.

A man never brags about his philanthropy at home when it has taken the form of loaning money to a friend.

"What was your gem, Jack?" said dad.

This was it, replied his youthful heir aged seven:

"The lightning-bug is brilliant. But he hasn't any mind."

He goes through this existence With his headlight on behind."

"What did teacher say," asked dad after Jack had finished.

TRUCCO IN THE STREET RAILWAY TOLEDO FIGHT

TOLEDO, June 2.—Trucco in the street railway franchise fight was affected at noon today. Henry L. Doherty, head of the Toledo Railway and Light Company, had announced that beginning tomorrow morning the company would insist on collection of five cents cash fare and sell tickets six for 25 cents, except two hours each morning and evening when three-cent tickets would be accepted. The franchise expired March 27 last, when a city ordinance requiring three-cent fare at all hours became effective.

The company refused to operate under it and has since permitted all who refused to pay more than three cents to ride free. Loss to the company has been $11,000 a day. Twenty percent of the car fares refused to pay the fare demanded by the company and rode free.

An order was issued by the safety director to place a partman on each car.

RECITAL WAS ATTENDED BY A LARGE AUDIENCE

(Special to The Advocate.)
Granville, O., June 2.—A good audience assembled in Recital Hall last evening, June 1, to listen to the fine program of the Students' Semester Recital. The numbers were varied and well rendered, but where all acquitted themselves with credit it would be impossible to give an account in detail for so lengthy a program. The pupils showed the results of careful and intelligent training and many gave evidence of unusual talent. "It is Enough," from the "Elijah" by Lloyd Kivimaa, was rendered in good style. This young man possesses a baritone voice of wonderful quality, which he uses with good judgment. Russell Williams, tenor, also pleased the audience and gave a splendid account of himself in "On, Away, Away, Beloved," by C. Coleridge Taylor.

The violin work was more than creditable, it was truly enjoyable. The accompanists, Ruth Rockwood, Constance Cheney, and Mabel Jones, added much to the success of the vocal and violin numbers by their intelligent and sympathetic work.

Fiddled Into Office.
Lossing relates that in 1483 he met at Ostvego, N. Y., Major Cochran, then nearly eighty years old, a son-in-law of General Philip Schuyler, who told the story of his election to congress during the administration of the elder Adams. A vessel was to be launched on one of the lakes in interior New York, and people came from afar to see it. The young folks gathered there, determined to have a dance at night. There was a fiddle, but no fiddler. Young Cochran was an amateur performer, and his services were demanded. He gratified the joyous company, and at the supper table one of the gentlemen remarked in commendation of his talents that he was "fit for congress." The matter was talked up, and he was nominated and elected a representative in congress for the district then comprising the whole of New York west of Schenectady. He always claimed to have "fiddled himself into congress."

Where Dollars Originated.
Joachimsthal, near Carlsbad, is historic as the birthplace of the original dollar. This was the silver gulden-groschen, coined in 1519 by order of Count Schlick from the metal of a recently opened mine, and it became known as the Joachimsthaler, or "thaler" alone for short. Before 1600 the nimble English language had already made "dollar" of this. Thereafter this name was loosely used of all manner of coins, varying in value from 75 cents to $1.25 and belonging to all manner of countries, from Sweden to Japan. It was from the prevalence of the Spanish "dollar" in the British-American colonies at the time of their revolt that the modern "mighty dollar" was derived, while in modern English very recent slang has given the name to the crown piece.

Madame Ise's bell Says That Rouge Is Not Necessarily Vulgar, But May Be So

A pupil has sent me the following letter and, as many others are interested in the subject, I am printing it with my answer.

"Dear Madame Ise:—Will you tell me frankly how you regard the use of artificial red on the cheeks? Can it be used without detection? I am growing very pale, and it is not becoming to me. I dislike doing anything that would make me look fast or vulgar."

Rouge that can be detected is better avoided. Either it has been put on hastily, or in a poor light, or a bad quality has been chosen. Every woman does not need rouge, but when colorless cheeks make a woman look old, ill, or unhappy, it is time to change them. Recently I was watching a well-known actress who even under strong daylight looks a dozen years younger than she is, make up her face for the day. She used a liquid rouge which she says she puts on never more than twice a week. She uses no soap on her skin, cleansing it always with a good cleansing cream, which may explain the fact that the artificial color stays on so well.

She shook the bottle, applying a little of the rouge to a towel and, and commenced applying this first to one cheek, then to the other, rubbing from the cheek bones backwards. She included in this rubbing the skin over the eyes, the chin and the lobes of the ears. This gave a glow to the entire face. To do this she held her hand glass in strong daylight and she finished by carefully examining her profile. A little powder added gave her a fresh, rosy and perfectly natural complexion.

Remember, if you use rouge, use the best. Have your face clean, skin smooth and in good condition when you apply it, and it will be in a strong light and take the necessary time to do it. Under-rouge rather than over-rouge and, if you have any doubts as to this wear a face veil while on the street.

The Origin of Algebra.
If Diophantus of Alexandria, fourth century of the Christian era, was not the inventor of algebra, then it is not known to whom the honor belongs. To Diophantus the honor is generally given. The Arabians claim that the invention belongs to one of their countrymen, Mohammed Ben-Musa, who flourished about the middle of the ninth century. Certain it is that the Arabians introduced algebra to Europe by way of Italy through Leonardo, a merchant of Pisa, who had lived among the Arabs of Barbary. Leonardo's treatise was written in 1202.

LITTLE DISCUSSIONS OF LOVE AND MARRIAGE

BY BARBARA BOYD

Good Intentions and Good Sense.

"I heard of a woman today," said the Engaged Girl, "who in a grand show of good feeling adopted a girl, and this girl afterward wrecked the life of her benefactor's son, and caused him to commit suicide. It's strange, isn't it, how one can, with the best intentions, do a thing that will turn out disastrously."

"There's quite considerable difference between good intentions and good sense," observed the Clubwoman. "There ought to be a strong connection between them, for if anything needs the control of good sense it is good intentions. But it seems to me a good many people think if their intentions are good that is all that matters. The good of their motive is supposed to counterbalance any lack of judgment."

"That was the way it was in this case," agreed the Engaged Girl. "The woman seemed to think she was doing such a good thing in adopting the girl, that nothing further was required of her, that because she had performed the virtuous act of adoption, the girl must therefore develop into all that was fine. The woman did it, I believe, because her son's life had been saved in some remarkable way, and in a fine glow of feeling she decided to do something to show her gratitude. So she rushed in and adopted this girl, and then, thinking she had been wonderfully benevolent, she seemed to think nothing more was demanded of her."

"It is a case, as I said, of good intentions without good sense. Adopting a child is without doubt a good thing to do. But before doing it, one should study the home situation pretty thoroughly to see if such action is advisable. And having done it, one should look after the child as carefully as if she were one's own, perhaps more so. For the child's previous environment may make special oversight necessary. But this is by no means the only case where good intentions lack good sense. The very fact that a person means well by another seems in nine cases out of ten to prevent him from considering whether what he intends doing is really good for the other."

"I've been up against that," agreed the Engaged Girl. "My fiance's sister is that sort. The other day she planned what she thought was a delightful motor trip for me. Yet it completely upset some important plans of my own. But she was in such a glow of good-will at what she thought she was doing for me that I hated to disappoint her. And she bought us a dinner set that will just spoil our dining-room scheme. And I shall not feel now as if I ought to get the blue breakfast set I had quite set my heart upon."

The Engaged Girl sighed.

"It's too bad," sympathized the Clubwoman. "I know the kind. They simply ooze good intentions. In a fine frenzy of good-will they do all sorts of things you don't want them to. And the one thing you wish they would do—exercise a little common sense—they never seem to think of. Good intentions alleviated by common sense are endurable, but good intentions allowed to run wild can do more damage than a cyclone."

Obituary

John Stickle.
A message received here Monday afternoon announced the death of John Stickle, 87, in Van Wert Co., an uncle of James and John Parkison, of Newark, whose mother, Mrs. Kate Parkison, Mr. Stickle's sister, died three months ago. Mrs. Parkison was the third of her family to die within two weeks.

Mr. Stickle spent his early life in Somerset, O., and removed to Van Wert several years ago. The funeral will be held Wednesday.

Death of Infant.
Elizabeth Fustos, aged five weeks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Fustos, 51 Webb street, died Monday night. The funeral service was held in the home Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment was in Cedar Hill cemetery.

Married by Justice Jones.
Magistrate D. M. Jones late Monday afternoon united in marriage Samuel Harry McFeeters and Mrs. Cynthia Roe, both of Utica. The ceremony was performed in the magistrate's office in the presence of a few friends of the couple. Mr. and Mrs. McFeeters will reside in Utica.

Nature pays her debts except perhaps to the man who feels that the world owes him a living.

It would take a magnifying glass to discover that some people have any visible means of support.

RESINOL STOPS SKIN TORMENTS

How This Wonderful Ointment Ends Itching and Heals Skin Eruptions.

The soothing, healing medication in Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap penetrates every tiny pore of the skin, clears it of impurities, and stops itching instantly. Resinol speedily heals eczema, rashes, ringworm, and other eruptions, and clears away disfiguring pimples and blackheads, when other treatments prove a waste of time and money.

Resinol is not an experiment. It is a doctor's prescription, which proved so wonderfully successful for skin troubles that it has been used by other doctors all over the country for more than eighteen years.

No other treatment for the skin now before the public can show such a record of professional approval. Every druggist sells Resinol Ointment (50c. and $1.), and Resinol Soap (25c.); but for trial size, free, write to Dept. KK, Resinol, Baltimore, Md. Look for the blue package and avoid worthless substitutes.

PLEASURE

We sometimes think more people would get ahead if they could only get over the idea that saving means hardship.

Now, we never advocate saving from the miser's standpoint of saving merely to have money.

Money in itself is not worth having.

But we do advocate saving money, FOR WHAT IT WILL PROCURE FOR YOU, in other words for the joy of spending it.

We advise people to save when they are young so they can have money TO SPEND when they are old. We advise people to save in order that they can SPEND the money for a home.

Think of what you will spend the money for. The saving is not a hardship but A JOY.

Try it and see.

New York Wall Street.

(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, June 2.—Missouri Pacific was the feature of an outbreak of otherwise dull market. Initial trading in that stock was on the basis of 1,000 shares at 19 1/2 and 19 5/8, a maximum gain of a point. Evidently avoidance of receivership for that property was hailed with satisfaction, although the feeling did not extend to the remainder of the list which was increasing very reactionary. Exceptions were Wells-Fargo Express; U. S. Express, and Colorado Southern first preferred which were up a point or better.

Chicago, June 2.—Bullish cables to-day caused wheat to advance. There was a decrease of more than 6,000,000 bushels for the week in the European supply. Besides, disturbing reports as to heat and drought came from a large area in southwest Russia. The market here which has opened unchanged to 1-3@1-4 higher scored an all round upturn. Corn developed strength as a result of improved eastern demand. Bull leaders were predicting an absolute scarcity before a new crop comes in. Prices started a shade to 3-8 up and continued.

CROWDS ATTEND THE ELECTRICAL DEMONSTRATIONS

One often hears of a well conducted home, but now it is the electricity conducted home, and what really can be done and has been done with electricity is being shown by the Electrical Demonstrator and Sales company at 16 Arcade for the coming two weeks.

No sales are made at the demonstration, the various applications of electricity are shown, and a display is made of the various electrically equipped articles of merchandise. Four completely furnished rooms are shown at the demonstration, the living room, bedroom, dining room and kitchen and electricity presides over the domain from the electrically propelled dishwasher in the kitchen to the graphophone which furnishes music for the living room. The various modes of lighting are shown, and all the newest inventions for facilitating work in the office of business houses are demonstrated.

The demonstration is being given in co-operation of the local merchants who deal in electrically propelled articles, and is merely for the purpose of familiarizing the general public with the results obtained by the use of the volatile fluid.

A large crowd was present during the afternoon and evening of Monday and during the course of the show, dainty edibles will be served. A 5 per cent cash discount slip is given each person attending entitling them to that discount on any article purchased locally within the next thirty days.

First Things

The first important railway in New England was the Boston & Providence, which was opened seventy-nine years ago today, June 2, 1835. The first railway built in New England was the Granite Branch, a three-mile line from Quincy, Mass., to the Neponset river. The first road regularly incorporated in Massachusetts was the Boston & Lowell, but it was not opened until twenty-five days after the inauguration of traffic on the Boston & Providence line. In the following month the Boston & Worcester railroad was opened, and before the close of the year Boston was quite a railroad center. Main's first railway, the Bangor & Piscataquis, running from Bangor to Ogdensburg, 11 miles, was opened in 1836. The New York, Providence & Boston, operating from Providence to Stonington, Conn., was opened in 1837, and gave the Nutmeg State its first rail transportation. It was fifty miles long, and the greatest railroad system of that era. The Hartford & New Haven, thirty-six miles in length, was opened in 1839. New Hampshire's first road, the Nashua & Lowell, six miles, started service in 1838, and it was not until a decade later that Vermont's first road, the Vermont Central, was opened.

No, Maude, dear; putting a stamp on a letter doesn't alter the fact that it still remains stationary.

You may be able to keep the wolf from the door, but the flies are pretty sure to get in.

HANDLING CLOVER FOR THE SEED CROP.

Poor crops of clover seed are often attributed to the fact that bumble bees are not plentiful or that the season has been wet. However, the real hindrance to clover seed production according to C. S. Wheeler of the College of Agriculture, Ohio State University, is the clover flower midge. The maggots of this insect are found in the clover blossom where they destroy the ovary in each floret before it can fertilize and develop a seed. Two generations of the maggots appear each season with the two blooming periods of the clover. To get rid of the midge is impossible for the individual farmer because the adult, which is a fly comes in from neighboring fields. Control depends upon getting the second crop of blossoms, which are to develop the seed, to appear either before or after the second generation of maggots. This is best accomplished by removing the first crop before it would naturally be cut for hay. Either pasture until early in June or cut as hay when about half of the blossoms are open. This plan will cause the seed to develop early and get so far along by the time the second maggots appear that it will not be damaged by them. By this plan the hay crop is partly given up for the seed crop and usually with profit. In order to save the hay crop, some farmers delay the second crop of blossoms until after the second generation of maggots. This they accomplish by cutting over the field twice or by pasturing late.

You'll Grow Over "GETS-IT" for Corns!

It Will Startle You How "GETS-IT" Gets Corns Every Time.

"One, two, three!" That's about as long as it takes you to apply "GETS-IT," the new-plush, simplest, surest corn cure the world has ever seen. Corn fussing is all

"This is No Place for a Corn. Her Corns Are All Gone. She Must Have Used 'GETS-IT.'" over. Corns, corn pains and corns are absolutely done for, from the minute you apply "GETS-IT." Forget the bother of useless plasters, greasy salves that spread and make toes sore and raw, little doughnut cottons that press on corns, forget knives, razors, scissors and the dangers of blood poison from drawing blood, and the contraptions and harnesses that simply make corns worse. "GETS-IT" never hurts the flesh, never fails. "GETS-IT" is sold by all druggists, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

PARESIS AND DIABETES

Paresis, like coma when symptomatic of Diabetes, commonly presents a critical condition. Mr. Henry Ringo in book lines, Post street, San Francisco was in bed for nine weeks with Diabetes complicated with Bright's Disease and Paresis. To use the language of his physician, "The urine was loaded with both sugar and albumen but he would probably die of Paresis," which was so far advanced that, of nine physicians who had passed on the case none gave any hope. Patient was in a wheel-chair much of the time.

A prominent Levisadero street physician administered Fulton's Diabetic Compound with gradual but steady response. The final results may be known from this. This was many years ago and patient is at this writing (Feb. 1914) a robust man approaching 200 pounds, devoting his energies to his business. The ability of Fulton's Diabetic Compound to reduce sugar in many cases of Diabetes in people over fifty (above patient was somewhat under fifty) is not a matter of opinion but a FACT IN PHYSICS and we will send formula that will show the percentage of sugar from week to week. As the sugar declines patients commonly improve, recovery or prolongation of life being common reports. Sugar formula and literature mailed on request. John J. Fulton Co., San Francisco. F. D. Hall is local agent. Ask for pamphlet.

THE UNIVERSITY—

A TOWN IN ITSELF.

A more definite idea of the size and growth of Ohio State University can be obtained from figures on the amount of fuel and machinery required to furnish heat, light, and power to the 26 buildings. During a year, 13,500 tons of coal or about 37 tons a day are used. This amount of coal would make eight trains of more than 40 cars each. It furnishes heat to produce power to light 12,000 electric lamps used in the buildings and on the campus. With 30 lamps to a home this number would furnish light for 400 homes. Water heated at the main plant travels through 7,000 feet of underground tunnels to each building to furnish hot water and steam heat. More than 500 horse-power motors, eighteen hundred and fifty horse-power water-tube boilers and 650 kilowatt electric generators also assist in keeping things agreeable both night and day for the 5000 people who attend the University daily. In order to maintain and operate this extensive plant, 75 men are needed. Many trades are represented among this number, such as painter, carpenter, plumber, engineer, electrician, steam-fitter, and tinner.

HIT BY FOUL TIP

Kansas City, June 2.—An opinion by the court of appeals which Monday awarded Charles A. Eddings, a lawyer, $3500 for being hit on the nose by a foul ball while watching an American Association game here said:

"If the Kansas City 'Blues' had kept their eyes on the ball with the accuracy that they contended Eddings should have exhibited, they would have attained a higher place in the pennant race."

The accident to Eddings' nose occurred in 1911. The ball hit him after breaking through a wire netting. He obtained judgment for $3500. The club owners appealed, contending he either should have caught the ball or dodged it.

SENIOR CLASS TO PRESENT PLAY ON TUESDAY, JUNE 9

As a worthy successor to "The Weaker Sex," presented by the class of 1914 last year, the senior class will present Henry Arthur Jones' best comedy, "The Maneuvers of Jane." This play is one of the best of the plays classed as masterpieces of modern English literature, and its initial production marked the transition from the play of the old school to the drama of the contemporary type. All four acts of the comedy scintillate with the sparkling fun and humor that can be only possibly portrayed in these delightful plays, representing the country gentleman type of England. For the past several months, the class has been rehearsing diligently under the tutelage of Miss Eunice Thomas of the faculty, who has had experience in the past in the coaching of amateur theatricals. When the play is presented on the night of Tuesday June 9, one of the greatest dramatic successes in the history of the high school should enhance the prestige of the class of '14.

The splendid plays that are presented at the high school, the splendidly-equipped and beautiful little theater, the school spirit and good music furnished by the orchestra during the intermission between acts have made high school theatricals in this city ideal. Every play is always well patronized, and it is evident that theatricals in the high school have been improving at a very remarkable rate in the last several years. When the audience sees Jane Manuever they will be satisfied that the play is upholding the increasing prestige of the high school drama which is the only source of revenue for the class and is of educational value to the public as well as developing histrionic ability among the students of the high school.

Only one new face will appear in the play as all of the cast have had previous experience in amateur theatricals, and it can be said with veracity that the cast is not composed of novices. The new face will be that of the winsome Miss Frances Bausch in the role of Miss Dodd, the diffident spinster and school mistress. Tickets are now on sale and may be procured from any of the members of the senior class. Next Friday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock seats will be on sale with reservation free at Erman's drug store.

HOMELY, YET ADMIRABLE AND ENVIED; HER SECRET

The convention crowd made a path for her as she came, and then, with long eyes followed her to the elevator. It was at the Pontchartrain in Detroit. The incident resulted when I chanced to sit across the table from the woman. What was it about her that caused all that commotion? Her complexion. Really, I never beheld its equal. Venturing to pick up acquaintanceship, I learned the secret.

"I've tried to make the most of my own charm," she said. "I know men and make-up, and artificial beauty cosmetics; there are two things I use to promote natural loveliness and beautiful appearance. When my complexion begins to age, I use an ounce of mercurized wax at the drugstore, apply at night like cold cream, wash it off in the morning. This gradually flakes off the outer skin; then I have a brand new complexion, magnetically beautiful, as you see."

"Wrinkles never bother me." At their inception I bathe my face in a solution made by dissolving a pinch of powdered salolite in half pint of witch hazel. It works like magic!—Mona Morrow in Tatler. Advertisement.

WHY GOOD ROADS PAY.

J. J. Prindall of Lorain, Ohio is one of the many Ohio farmers who are fully convinced of the value of good roads. Recently he purchased eight tons of fertilizer to be delivered at his nearest railway station one and three-fourth miles from his home. All but one-half mile of this was unimproved road and at the time he needed the use of the fertilizer it was in very bad condition. So in order to draw his fertilizer over a better road, he was obliged to go around by another route which was three and three-quarter miles in length. It had the advantage of having only one-half mile of unimproved road. Even here though, the weight of the load was limited to one ton on account of the half mile of bad road. It therefore required his two teams, together with two men, one day to draw home eight tons of fertilizer. Mr. Prindall says that, had the shorter route been improved road all the way, one man with a team, hauling two tons to the load could have drawn home the fertilizer in one day and with less effort on the part of the team. In other words, he could have saved the cost of labor of one man and a team for one day. This is the experience that has made Mr. Prindall a good roads advocate.

THE TRUTH ABOUT SOIL ANALYSIS.

No one part of the farm concerns the man on it more than the soil. It is the storehouse from which all things must come. The farmer is naturally anxious to know the truth about the matter of available plant food. In the effort to find out what elements of plant food exist in their soils, a mistaken notion has arisen among many men as to the value of soil analysis. "The fact is," says Professor Alfie Vivian, soil fertility expert of the College of Agriculture, Ohio State University, "soil analysis gives practically no hint as to the immediate needs of the soil. It gives the total plant food in the soil but does not give any clue to its availability. The most important thing that the chemist can do is to determine whether the soil is properly supplied with lime by testing for acidity." Rather than make a chemical analysis of a soil, Professor Vivian has another method of determining its needs in the way of fertilizers. He tests for acidity, notes the physical properties of the soil and then asks the owner a number of questions including such as, the location of the farm, kind of crops grown, whether clover can be grown successfully or not, and the character of the underlying stone. From the answer to these questions he can tell what kind of fertilizer is needed with more intelligence than when simply making a chemical analysis. In a general way, says Professor Vivian, there are three things concerning soil fertility of which every Ohio farmer can be sure. These are: (1) There is no soil in the state that does not need phosphorus. No experiment has ever been conducted in the state that did not show a benefit from phosphorus. (2) Soils cultivated for any length of time are low in organic matter. Data of virgin and cultivated soils side by side show that from 35 to 50 per cent of the organic matter has been destroyed in the cultivated soils. (3) Every man can determine absolutely by test whether or not his soil needs lime.

There are no native industries in the Belgian Congo. In every community there is the village blacksmith, who can fashion knives and spears of a certain quality, and there are also village experts (levers women) in weaving, pottery and kindred occupations.

The Average
Buyer Buys
the Remington

If he buys on reputation, he buys the Remington. If he buys on side-by-side comparison, he buys the Remington. If he buys on nothing short of actual test, he buys the Remington. In any case and under any conditions, the Remington is his natural choice.

The actual test is the most decisive of all. If you do not know by actual test the time saving merits of the Column Selector of the Model 10 Remington, then you do not know the Remington Typewriter of today. And the Column Selector is only one example.

 pany of the "Stop Thief" produc-

Ends of the Earth.
 If you stand at the north pole you can look in only one direction—south.
 No matter how you may twist around on your heels, it is always toward the south that your eyes are directed.
 North as a terrestrial direction has vanished. You have arrived at the end of north. You are "where it lives."
 Or else we may say that north has suddenly sprung into the sky and is now at an unattainable distance directly over your head. A moment before your foot touched the "pole north" was straight ahead of you, and you had all the four cardinal points to choose from —east, west, north and south. Now three of them have vanished and south alone remains. This reverse is true at the south pole, where all directions on the earth's surface are alike north. In view of these facts we may speak of the north and south poles as the "ends of the earth." They are the two turning points, arrived at either one of which there is no choice left but to start toward the other.—New York Journal.

Kaiser's Son Who Will
Wed Girl He Loves

On the urgent pleading of the empress, the emperor has consented to the marriage of his "quiet" son,
 Prince Oskar, to the Countess Ina Marie von Bassowitz-Evetzow, formerly a maid of honor to the empress and heiress to one of the huge feudal estates of Mecklenburg-Schwerin. It will be a morganatic or "left-handed" union.
 Their majesties have recognized the fact that their son's happiness is more important than the maintenance of the strict family tradition, says a semi-official statement.
 Prince Oskar, commonly called the "quiet" son, because, unlike his brothers, he is almost unknown to the public, is a keen soldier and a con-noisseur of pictures.
 His bride cannot take the title of princess, and his children cannot rank with the Hohenzollerns, but it is understood that the Kaiser will raise her to the rank of duchess, though it will probably be some time before she appears again at court functions.

Today in Pugilistic Annals

1886—Mike Donovan lost on foul to Bill Crowley in 9th round at St.
 Louis. This battle marked the ring premiere of Prof. Mike Donovan, who for thirty years has been instructor of boxing at the New York A. C. and who is known throughout the sporting world as "the grand old man of pugilism." Prof. Donovan's first bout, was of course, with bare knuckles and it lasted 3 hours and 15 minutes. Crowley was an experience fighter, and expected an easy victory over the youngster, but Donovan was still fresh and strong after three hours of milling, and would probably have been the victor except for the wild blow that lost him the battle. After eight years of scrapping, in which he met all comers, Donovan became the middleweight champion, and held the title until his voluntary retirement in 1882. Even after he had been out of the ring several years, and was past 40, he "came back" and outpointed Jack Dempsey, the champion, in a 6-round bout.
 1904—Jack Johnson defeated
 Frank Childs in 6 rounds at Chicago.
 1911—Matt Wells defeated Leach
 Cross in 10 rounds at New York.
 1913—Bill Beynon defeated Digger
 Stanley in 20 rounds at London.

—AND THE WORST IS YET TO COME

The Norman "Oyez."
 Not many persons realize that the court crier says "oyez, oyez, oyez," instead of "harken, harken, harken," because of a chance visit that William the Conqueror made to an English court about 900 years ago.
 William had overrun England, seized the government and placed himself at its head. Happening to enter a courtroom, he heard the crier call the assemblage to order in English. William rebuked him and on the spot decreed that the business of all English courts should be transacted in Norman French, his native tongue. Afterward the courts went back to English, but to this day "oyez, oyez, oyez," clings to court customs wherever the English language is spoken as a reminder of the great Norman who whipped King Harold in the battle of Hastings.

I will recommend your medicine to my friends and give you permission to publish my testimonial."—Mrs. LAWRENCE MARTIN, 12 King St., Westbrook, Maine.

DELEGATES

resenting General Huerta as desiring that the Constitutionalists enter the mediation proceedings so that Mexico's affairs might be settled by Mexicans.

"The Constitutionalists have not agreed to mediate with Huerta," said he and can only meet him at the point of the sword."

When the cabinet assembled today with President Wilson on account of Carranza's statement issued last night had been received either through the Constitutionalists themselves or of the American delegates at Niagara Falls. The cabinet members, however showed deepest interest in Carranza's pronouncement as published in the morning papers which dispatches were taken up for discussion.

Nelson O. Shaughnessy, former charge of the embassy at Mexico City was a White House caller early in the day but did not see the president.

When the cabinet meeting broke up, it was said none of the members would express any views on Carranza's latest pronouncement as it had not been before them officially. The latest communication from the delegates at conference were discussed without announcement.

After the cabinet meeting another communication was telegraphed to the American delegates at Niagara. It was generally understood that it continued to deal with the participation of the constitutionalists.

MEXICAN PAPER. ON SITUATION

(Associated Press Telegram) Mexico City, June 2.—A semi-official note relative to the mediation conference at Niagara Falls, was published under a prominent heading in "El Imparcial" today, it says:

"We can give the assurance that the peace conferences are on the good road and that conciliation between the mediators and delegates must be based on respect to our sovereignty and to the dignity of our Mexican nation. The public will know all in two or three days and our readers will then recognize when we speak the truth when we declare our honor and dignity will be saved."

WILL NOT ALLOW THE AMMUNITION TO LEAVE PORT

(Associated Press Telegram) New York, June 2.—Five hundred tons of ammunition ordered by the Mexican constitutionalists, which arrived in New York today from Bridgeport, Conn., will not be allowed to

TRANSPORT AT TAMPICO WITH 270 REFUGEES

(Associated Press Telegram) Tampico, June 2.—The United States Transport Hancock today arrived with 270 refugees who were transferred outside the port to the collier Lebanon and then landed in this city. Most of them were men interested in the oil industry and seeking to resume their occupation. The oil operators generally are reluctant to commence their activities on account of difficulties surrounding the general situation in Mexico. The acute scarcity of currency is gravely affecting all business interests here. It is impossible to obtain sufficient bills either national or constitutional for payment of employees and there is practically no small change in circulation. Owing to the small number of bills in the city, the exchange for American currency has been reduced here to only two pesos for one American dollar.

ONLY BURNED CASINO

(Associated Press Telegram) Monterey, Mex., June 2.—The only structure burned by the Federals when they evacuated Sattillo May 10, was the Casino, according to information reaching here yesterday. The same information had it that the Constitutionalists looted a few houses, the property of Huerta sympathizers.

The Resolute, owned by the flag officers syndicate of the New York Yacht club slipped over the line at 12:46, 12.34 seconds ahead of the Vanitie. The weather was ideal. A large fleet of yachts and other pleasure craft followed the racers. The Defiance, third of the claimants for cup defending honors, was not able to start today because her rig was being changed.
